

THE 5-MINUTE RULE TO OVERCOME PROCRASTINATION

START SMALL. BUILD BIG MOMENTUM

→ WHY DO WE PROCRASTINATE?

It's not about laziness. It's about:

- Fear of failure
- Feeling overwhelmed
- Waiting for "perfect" motivation

THE HARDEST PART IS ALWAYS STARTING.

WHAT IS THE 5-MINUTE RULE?

Tell yourself:

- I'll work on this task for just 5 minutes.
- No pressure to finish. Just start.

START SMALL. TRICK YOUR BRAIN INTO ACTION.

HOW IT WORKS

- Reduces mental resistance
- Kills perfectionism
- Activates your brain's momentum
- Makes tasks feel less scary

ACTION CREATES MOTIVATION.

HOW TO APPLY IT

- Pick a task you've been avoiding
- Set a 5-minute timer
- Start working — no expectations
- After 5 minutes, you can:
Continue if you want. Stop without guilt

MOST TIMES, YOU'LL KEEP GOING!

WHEN TO USE THE 5-MINUTE RULE

- Starting reports, emails, or studying
- Cleaning your desk
- Preparing presentations
- Brainstorming ideas
- Learning new skills

PERFECT FOR ANYTHING THAT FEELS OVERWHELMING.

RECAP

- 5-Minute Rule = Start without pressure
- Builds momentum naturally
- Beats procrastination gently
- Turns Ugh, I can't into Hey, I'm doing it!

SMALL STARTS = BIG WINS.

Want more simple productivity tools to boost your career growth?

Follow @Zylentrix for weekly carousels on mastering work, mindset, and leadership.

Tag someone who needs to hear about the 5-Minute Rule today!

www.zylentrix.net |        